Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Everitt of Court st., Columbiana, announce the marriage of their son, Sheldon D. Everitt, and Mrs. Dorothy M. Everitt of Bazetta, O., which took place in the parsonage of the Columbian Christian church, Saturday morning at 11.

Rev. Donald G. Gregory, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. Jack Wolf and Miss Ruth Schwab, both of Bazetta, were the attendants. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wolf, of Bazetta, parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Everitt. The bride's first husband was a distant relative of the groom. After a trip to the Skyline drive and other points, the newlyweds will begin housekeeping in Bazetta.

Uncover Long-Lost Ben Franklin Will

PHILADELPHIA, April 26—(AP)—In a will written in 1757, Benjamin Franklin intended to leave his wealth and personal belongings among a host of relatives, friends and institutions.

This was disclosed yesterday when the long-lost will was made public by the Franklin Institute as part of the celebration of its 125th anniversary and the 200th anniversary of Franklin's discovery that lightning is electricity.

The will was made while Franklin was waiting in New York for a ship to take him to England, with a risk of attack at sea. A later will superseded the 1757 document.

The 1757 will was lost sight of for many years. The late Cyrus H. K. Curtis obtained it from a New York collector. Curtis' daughter, Mrs. Efreim Zimbalist, presented it to the institute.

Franklin was a wealthy man when he retired from business at the age of 42. Dr. Robert A. Millikan, California Institute of Technology, said he retired with an income of about $15,000 a year which he said was equal to approximately $50,000 today.

The document did not estimate the amount of Franklin's estate.

Tries To 'Doctor' Safe

DENVER—John Ritchie's attempt to "doctor" a safe proved unsuccessful. Eighteen-year-old Ritchie was captured by 17 officers after he had tried to open a motor company's safe by using a doctor's stethoscope to listen to the tumblers fall.

Startling Advances In Air Arms In Offing, Martin Says

BALTIMORE—(UP)—Glenn L. Martin held back the details, but the pioneer airman's annual report to his stockholders made it clear that breath-taking advances in aerial armament are forthcoming at the Martin plant.

"Some of the most advanced jet-powered developments and most significant applications of high-speed aircraft design are taking place in Martin drafting rooms and experimental assembly shops," said the 63-year-old flier-designer-manufacturer.

These projects, he said, include creation of an Air Force bomber "involving revolutionary design principles."

Martin already has produced a six-jet bomber, the XB-48, which he said was the first of its type to fly, and his Martin Mauler is hailed as the largest and most powerful attack plane to qualify for aircraft carrier service. The Mauler carries four 20 mm. cannon and a 9,000-pound load of rockets, torpedos and bombs.

In the field of ram-jet-powered pilotless aircraft, Martin said, the company is working on a still-secret project "which is expected to provide the Air Force with an important step forward in missiles vital to national defense."

Altitude Record Sought

Martin's report also disclosed that the armed forces soon will make the first tests of the Martin Viking rocket and will try to set a new rocket altitude record of 200 miles. The Viking rocket was designed for the Navy.

Martin revealed developments in two other phases of aeronautics. He said the company is working on a "radically new electronic gun turret which maintains our history of leadership in that field." He also said Martin chemists have developed a permanent flameproof compound for airplane interiors.

"Few people appreciate the sizable percentage of present-day aeronautical research activity which is being invested in special weapons—pilotless aircraft, guided missiles, rocketry, electronic devices, servomechanisms," Martin said.

"Because of military restrictions, few of these projects can be discussed publicly. But I can state that they include many startling developments."

Virtue Reward Unclaimed

WAKEFIELD, Mass.—There are no takers for a standing $10 prize to any Wakefield youth who proves he has sworn off smoking and drinking for five years. A $1,000 fund was established in 1883 by a testator, Johnathan Nicholas, and until World War I prize money was regularly collected. Then things slackened off and in the last 12 years "maybe two or three kids" have applied, Town Clerk Charles C. Cox said.

Garden Club Tea Marks Group's 18th Birthday

Tearing back the curtain of time, Mrs. John Smeltz, charter member, pictured the original meeting of the Salem Garden club at its 18th anniversary tea Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. James E. Britt, E. State st. Sixty-four members and three guests attended.

The first member to be vice president of the club, Mrs. Smeltz gave an exceptionally fine review of the club's activities through the years.

The organization, which was affected April 23, 1931, was the outgrowth of a small gathering of women in the home of Mrs. J. C. McKee, N. Union ave.

Mrs. W. E. Bunn, who marked her 93rd birthday anniversary today, had just returned from a visit in Lorain and was enthusiastic about that city being beautified with lilacs. The other women caught her inspiration and thus was born the idea of an official flower for Salem. Forsythia was chosen and one of the club's outstanding accomplishments has been the beautifying of the city with this flower.

The first year of the organization, 2,000 of the shrubs were planted in observance of Mother's day. This was the result of a suggestion made by Mrs. Smeltz.

Churches, schools and clubs worked with the women in selling the forsythia bushes.

Mrs. Smeltz gave special recognition to Ralph W. Hawley, publisher of The Salem News, for his assistance to the club in the early days of its history.

First officers were: President, Mrs. W. E. Bunn; vice president, Mrs. Smeltz; secretary, Mrs. William Silver; treasurer, Mrs. H. E. Williams.

Mrs. Bunn, who is now making her home in Youngstown, and Mrs. William Silver, 91, were unable to be at the celebration.

Mrs. Smeltz, who also served as secretary for two years, and in other capacities, is conservation chairman this year.

Mrs. Williams has been active through the years. She is horticultural chairman and gave a well-prepared paper on "Horticulture" at yesterday's meeting.

Past Presidents Attend

Past presidents at the tea were: Mrs. Burt Leeper, Mrs. C. R. Votaw, Mrs. R. R. Miller, Mrs. L. B. Harris, Irene Weeks, Mrs. Russell Smith, Mrs. Raymond Stiver, Mrs. C. H. Waldron and Mrs. R. R. Cuthbert of Salem, and Mrs. Maude Thomson of Shaker Heights. Each one was presented a corsage. They were made by Mrs. A. V. Smith, Mrs. James Cross and Mrs. C. E. McElwee.

Mrs. L. P. Koenreich, Mrs. Wil-

Mrs. A. Leyda, Mrs. C. D. Harris and Mrs. Alton Bye.

The club plans to purchase five flowering crab trees and plant them in Centennial park. Each year the club plants flowers in beds at the park entrance.

A pilgrimage is planned to the Wilcox Lilac Gardens at Kent for the May 23 meeting. Members will leave the Memorial building at 10 a. m. Mrs. N. L. Reich is chairman of transportation.

Women's Club Officers Named

Misses Ruth Cosgrove and Mary Gill were re-elected president and secretary, respectively, of the Business and Professional Women's club at the Monday evening session in the public library assembly room.

Miss Helene Prudner was named vice president and Miss Elma Satterthwaite is treasurer.

She President K. Lucille Probo of Cleveland will install the new officers at a dinner meeting Monday evening, May 30, in the Presbyterian social hall.

The program-coordination committee will be in charge. Miss Prudner is chairman.

Worth Edwards of Youngstown, district traffic and sales manager for the United Air Lines, showed a movie, "Wings Over Hawaii."

He was presented by Mrs. Nelson Rokes, local representative of Travel Service, who also explained the advantages of the service.

Miss Prudner and Miss Gill gave echoes from the spring meeting of District 4, Sunday in Akron.

Plans are being completed for a benefit party May 13 in the Memorial building. Mrs. Harry O'Keefe is chairman.

A white elephant sale was featured and lunch was served.

Marlene Lewis Hostess At Birthday Party

Marlene Lewis was hostess to 20 youngsters Saturday afternoon at a party in the Lewis home on E. Sixth st. They helped her celebrate her ninth birthday.

Her mother, Mrs. Caleb Lewis, was assisted with the party arrangements by Mrs. Deane Phillips. Games provided entertainment.

A large decorated birthday cake was the center of attraction at the refreshment table. Little blue candles were used on the cake, while larger blue tapers in silver candelabra lighted the table. The pink and blue color scheme also was used in the carnation and sweet pea bouquet.

Balloons in many colors decorated the home and the guests each took one home as a favor.

Bit of Ice

Music Study Club Plans For Event

The Salem Music Study club will present a Music Week program at 3 p. m. Sunday in the Methodist church, under the direction of Mrs. Vesta King.

This is in observance of National Music week. The club has sponsored the celebration here for years.

Announcement of the event was made at a meeting Monday afternoon in the public library assembly room, with Mrs. Eric Silver, hostess.

Twenty-two members were present. Mrs. M. P. Livingston served as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Melvin A. York.

Miss Helen Dertus gave a report on "Musical America," while Mrs. Silver gave the radio report.

Mrs. Walter J. Hunston was program chairman.

"Bohemian Music" was the theme of an interesting paper by Mrs. Donald Dusenberry.

Miss Dertus played piano solos, including two transcriptions by Liszt, "Santa's Ballad" (Wagner) and Schumann's "Dedication."

A strong quartet number composed by Dvorak was played by Mrs. Sterling Jackson, Mrs. Raymond Mackall, violins; Mrs. M. P. Livingston, viola, and Mrs. Carl Beecher, cello.

Mrs. Anthony Woina presided at the tea table made lovely with pastel trimmings.

The club will observe its 25th anniversary May 20 in the Presbyterian social hall.

Auxiliary of V. F. W. Names Committees

Three applications for membership were accepted at a meeting of Cold Star auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Monday evening in the hall. Twenty-two members attended.

Mrs. Clarence Means, president, officiated.

Committees were announced as follows: Investigating—Mrs. Mabel Shaffer, Miss Ruth Allison and Mrs. Mary Karas; flower, Mrs. Shaffer and Miss Allison; lunch for May, Miss Katherine Domevic and Mrs. Shaffer.

An invitation was received from the Chillicothe Mental hospital to special exercises there May 8.

In the future each member will receive a 25-year pin as they reach that period.

The pins have been presented to Mrs. James Rhodes and Mrs. Bridget Leach. Mrs. J. A. Nicklason is the next in line for this honor.

Plans were discussed for a benefit carnival in the near future.

Members having blue capes are asked to contact Mrs. C. J. Scheur-

The next meeting is May 8.

William J. Schmidt, Sr., who underwent an operation in the Central Clinic, has returned to his home, E. Lundy ave. His condition is improved.

Keepsake Diamond Rings

Mrs. J. A. Nicklason is the next in line for this honor.

Postoffice Auxiliary Enjoys Program

Miss Wilma Firestone entertained with a group of accordion solos at a meeting of the Wives of Postoffice Employees auxiliary Monday evening in the Memorial building.

Mrs. Charles Cozad was in charge. Games also afforded pleasure.

The next meeting will be held on May 23, in the Memorial building, instead of May 30, Memorial day.

Glass Makers Face Problem Of Video Tube Production

By INEZ ROBB
NEW YORK, April 26—(INS)—What to do with old razor blades has never yet been solved to the general satisfaction of the American public.

What to do with old television tubes, when they will no longer produce Milton Berle, is going to be a pure pleasure. That's money in them tubes and the neighborhood junkman and the kids will be fighting for possession.

The glass used in television tubes is 30 per cent lead, a commodity which costs money. Such glass, when broken up into scrap, is called "cullet" and is used in the manufacture of similar glass products, just as scrap iron is important to steel.

I am indebted for all this information, including the high class "cullet," to Stanley J. McGivern, vice president of the Owens-Illinois Glass company of Toledo, Ohio.

McGivern has been in New York nailing out the manufacturing needs of video, which increase in geometric ratio as householders mortgage their goods and gear, to make the down payment on such cultural uplift as wrassling in the home.

Right now it is about all the combined glass companies of America can do to keep pace with the demand for tubes for new video sets. But come 1950, the replacement problem in the matter of tubes will begin to mount with the speed of rocket missiles, McGivern believes.

As of now, the replacement problem has been negligible. But in another year, all these sets bought in 1947, 1948 and 1949 will begin to fade in the middle of Howdy-Doody and there will be heck to pay until Daddy hot-foots it down to the video store for a new tube.

For the next few years, the replacements are apt to cost as much as a four-rib roast of prime beef, McGivern believes, or around $40 to $50 each. At least, that is the price of a new 10-inch cathode ray tube.

And now that manufacturers are looking up for larger tubes, the price is not apt to drop at least for a few more years. McGivern doubts if television prices drop much before another two years.

McGivern said his company has found television tubes more difficult to produce than any other item in the history of this old glass company.

The face of the tube must be of optical quality glass, and it must be perfect. The tiniest imperfection in the glass shows up.

The glass bulb, over which McGivern slaves on red hot furnaces, is a three-part jigger that looks like a long-necked funnel. Into the long neck goes television's secret weapon or "the gimmick." This is the electrical reproduction apparatus also known as "the gun."

The second part of the tube is the funnel along which the image spreads out until it hits the face, or third part, of the tube.

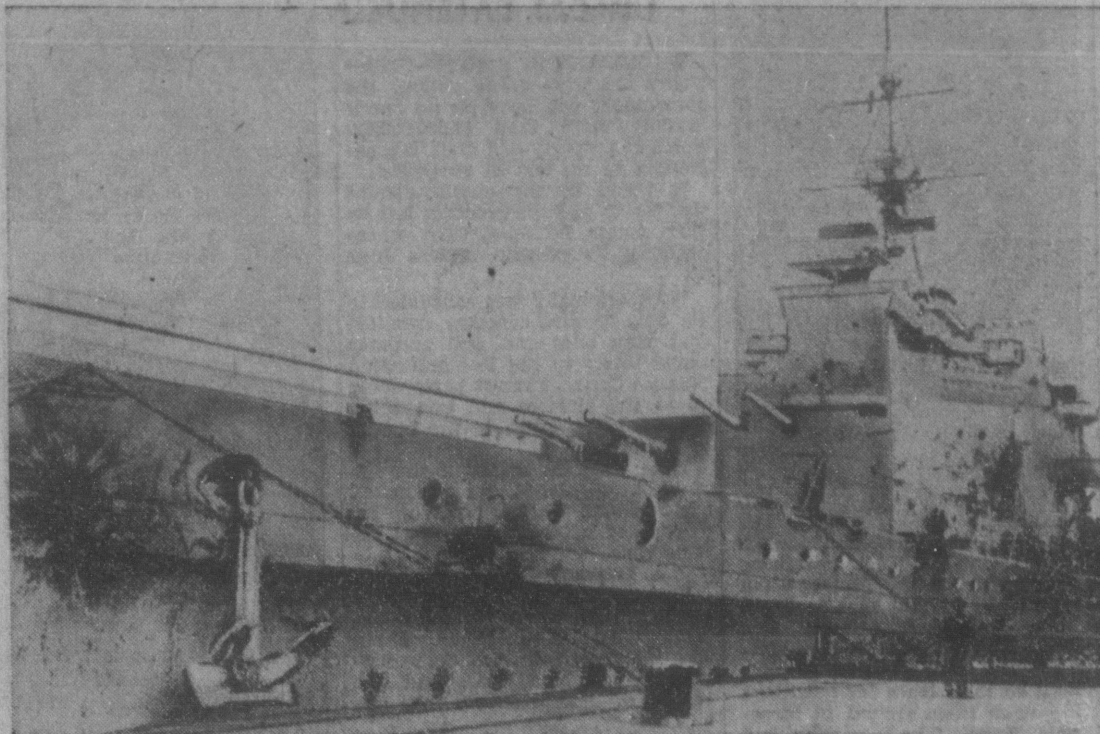

The average cathode ray tube is good for 2,000 hours of roller derby, grunt-and-gron matches, westerns starring William S. Hart, even more ancient movies featuring passion's plying, Miss Theda Bara, Gorgeous George and, of course, Milton Berle.

At the end of this period of punishment, the tube is apt to collapse of spontaneous senile exhaustion, McGivern said. He estimates this as a two-year stint at the rate the average video fan now burns up his set.

McGivern's outfit is now producing a radically new rectangular tube which will have a 12x16 inch face. The dingus is already in production but won't really start to roll in quantity till September.

The video industry in general McGivern said, believes there will be 2,102,160 television sets in use by 1953, or in less than five years. By that year, the glass companies will be straining every piece of cullet in their possession to manufacture 10,500,000 bulbs. And if some bulbs are dim-well maybe it'll just be the program.

British Cruiser Damaged In Yangtze Battle

The British cruiser HMS London is shown in Shanghai after she was pierced in many places by Red artillery shells in a vain attempt to bring the disabled British sloop Amethyst to safety. The Amethyst remained trapped in the Yangtze after suffering heavy damage and the loss of 19 sailors killed and many wounded in its encounter with Red shore batteries. The British death toll in three days of fighting between four Royal Navy warships and Communist artillery neared 50.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A simple explanation of America's housing problem and why there are slums and how they got that way has been given by Senator Taft, Ohio Republican.

In the senate debate yesterday on the public housing bill, Taft, who supports the bill which would supply government money to help build homes and wipe out slum, said what follows:

In this country there are about 35,000,000 married couples, some with families. About 3,000,000 of them live doubled up with other families.

And of that 3,000,000, about one and a half million want homes of their own. But—

BETWEEN FIVE and six million present housing units are sub-standard and about half of them, possibly as many as 4,000,000—are in slums.

But why haven't we provided enough decent homes for people? The cost of housing is too high, Taft said. He added:

"Homes could be purchased for half of what they are now being purchased for. I do not believe we would have any slum problem or any other serious problem of housing."

"Today it is very difficult to build a four-room house for less than $7,000. A family would have to have an income of approximately $3,000 a year in order to live in a $7,000 house."

Forty-five per cent of all families in the United States—or 15,000,000 families—have an income of less than $3,000. With some exceptions, these families are unable to buy new homes.

That makes 15,000,000 families unable to buy new homes. And—22 per cent of all the 35,000,000 families in the nation—or more than 7,000,000—have incomes of no more than $2,000.

THE AMOUNT of rent they can pay is so low that by the time they get apartments, their rent is hardly sufficient to keep up the houses. So those houses deteriorate.

The slums are occupied by people who can't afford to pay even a "reasonable" rent and, said Taft, "the rent which is paid is so low that no landlord, even if using all the rent, is able to pay the taxes and keep the buildings in reasonably good condition. So they deteriorate into slums."

There you have the picture. The low income families live in houses that deteriorate. And the lowest income families live in the houses that have deteriorated most.

More than 4,000,000 families pay less than $20 a month rent. And, Taft explained, "the 4,000,000 lowest income families have gradually gravitated to the 4,000,000 least desirable, sub-standard dwellings."

If there were 4,000,000 houses waiting for them to move into and they continued paying $20 a month rent for them for any length of time, those houses also would deteriorate into slums.

In short, the history of American housing shows that over a period of time one slum has been replaced by another.

Arrest Rubinstein For Stock Fraud

NEW YORK, April 26—(AP)—Serge Rubinstein, international financier, was rearrested today on a stock fraud charge immediately after his release upon completing a two-year term for draft-dodging.

Rubinstein pleaded innocent to two indictments based on an alleged $3,000,000 stock rigging deal in 1945 and 1946. One indictment charged conspiracy and the other alleged violation of the securities and exchange act.

Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan fixed bail at $50,000 and denied a defense application that Rubinstein be paroled in custody of counsel until bail was furnished. The court fixed May 9 for the filing of motions.

Chief Assistant U. S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol, asked the $50,000 bail "in view of the nature of the character" of the defendant. Rubinstein has a deportation act pending against him and the treasury department has filed liens against him for more than $1,000,000 for income taxes allegedly unpaid for 1945.

Saypol said Rubinstein is accused of disseminating false statements concerning the Panhandle & Refining Co., beginning in September 1945 and continuing until April 1948. Rubinstein was chairman of the board of the oil company and had one-third control.

Saypol said that after Rubinstein was indicted in January 1946 on a charge of draft evasion he was ousted from his position in the oil company.

Rubinstein was brought to the federal house of detention here Friday from the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., where he served his sentence for draft-evasion.

British Embassy Figure Quoted By Red Paper

MOSCOW, April 26—(AP)—A British embassy official is quoted in the Communist party newspaper here as charging the British government with preparing the British people "to be slaves of American masters."

He was further quoted as saying the Atlantic pact is "a war bloc of imperialist states" and that "the Soviet Union is the leading force in the struggle for peace."

The official was identified by Pravda, the Communist newspaper, as Archibald R. Johnston, editor-in-chief of the Russian language newspaper Britanski Soyuznik (British ally), published by the British foreign office for distribution in Russia.

Hollywood Scenes

By JAMES PADGITT

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — Hollywood's newest candidate for a bathtub scene is Gregory Peck, and he isn't looking forward to his celluloid-style ablutions with anything approaching eagerness.

The dousing takes place in his current epic, "Twelve O'Clock High," and the water is going to be ice cold.

The actor won't be seen in the usual cinematic variety bath, which is generally reserved for members of the curvaceous sex.

He portrays a field general in command of a bomber group in the Eighties air force and his bathing accommodations will be strictly in character with the story.

What this means, according to Director Henry King, is that Peck will be doused in a plain, ordinary barrel. Since the bathing sequence takes place outdoors, with only a canvas shelter for privacy, it is King's conviction that the water would be on the frigid side.

Bing Crosby is enjoying his work in Frank Capra's new picture "Riding High"—particularly the window busting business he is doing for the next few days.

The scenes call for Bing to hurl rocks through a window during a staid family dinner when he comes to get Colleen Gray to elope with him. The window smashing is to show his defiance of her domineering father, being played by Charles Bickford.

"This I always wanted to try as a kid, but I couldn't afford replacement expense," jokes the groaner as he practices his windup.

Montgomery Clift, who reached the top rung on Hollywood's ladder of success with only two pictures, has at last found a film role to his liking.

He has notified Paramount studio that he will do "An American Tragedy." If he liked the final script. The Theodore Dreiser classic originally was made by the studio in 1931, but it was only a minor success.

The studio now intends to "bring the story up to date." Change the title and maybe make a musical out of it.

Short takes: Paramount has decided to change the title of "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" to just plain "A Yankee in King Arthur's Court" when the musical is released in England. The studio feels that the British wouldn't know what the "Connecticut" part of the title was all about.

Tyrone Power and Linda Christian have been given souvenirs and gifts worth $200,000 since their marriage in Rome. The loot ranges from cuckoo clocks from the Black forest to statues of alabaster from Pise.

YOUNGSTOWN, April 26—All directors of the Bessemer Limestone & Cement Co. were re-elected yesterday.

CANTON TO UTILIZE DAYLIGHT TIME, TOO

CANTON, April 26—City council voted last night to put this industrial city of 129,000 on Daylight Savings time next Sunday.

The 9-5 vote came after two hours of bitter debate.

Canton was the only sizable city in northeastern Ohio which did not switch to Daylight time last Sunday morning.

The failure to change made for confusion in Stark county, of which Canton is the county seat. In the western part of the county the industrial city of Massillon has been on Daylight time. To the northeast, Alliance, the county's third industrial center, has been operating on fast time this week.

Hopes Of UN Success Are 4 Years Old; New Angles Are Developing Each Day

By DONALD J. GONZALES
FLUSHING, N. Y., April 26—(UP)—The United Nations met in San Francisco four years ago with the world's hopes pinned on it to assure peace.

Hopes of delegates and the world for the organization were marked by the high point of allied unity. Berlin was encircled on that same day. Soviet and American first army troops met at the Elbe river Hitler's retreat at Berchtesgaden was bombed. V-E day was only two weeks away.

By telephone from Washington, President Truman implored UN delegates "to achieve a just and lasting peace." The new President had talked three times a few days before with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Review of the last four years shows that peace hopes through UN machinery were based on a mistaken assumption—that the big powers would cooperate in peacetime as they were during the war that was still in progress.

Optimism rapidly gave way to world concern that the post-war cold war would get hot notwithstanding the UN forum of 50 nations that now numbers 58.

Build New Sphere

During the San Francisco conference and the next two years it became apparent in the western world that Russia was bent on building a new sphere of influence in Eastern Europe from World War II wreckage. To the Soviets, it was a plan to develop the "new people's democracies" regardless of western opinion.

All of the ensuing disputes were brought before the UN directly or indirectly in the big power struggle. New conflicts are heard by the organization almost daily.

But despite some spectacular failures and less-evident achievements the UN is still in business. It has survived the big power conflicts, and 30 Soviet vetoes. It has lived through debates on Berlin, Palestine, atomic energy, disarmament and other key issues that many thought would bring about its destruction. Both sides have been forced to retreat in the fact of the world opinion expressed through the UN.

A United Press survey of the "health of the United Nations" shows most delegates believe the organization will continue to live for the foreseeable future, and chances are good that it will grow stronger. UN halls and conference rooms reflect a noticeable spirit of guarded optimism compared with a low of pessimism reached only weeks ago when the North Atlantic treaty was signed over fierce Soviet objections.

Informal conversations with leading eastern, western, and UN officials reveals a general high regard for the value of the UN as the sole remaining platform where conflicting policies can be aired. Without this bridge, many believe a possible new world war would be accelerated.

UN Assembly President Herbert V. Ewart, who fought the big power "veto" at San Francisco, and UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie feel the UN is more important than ever today because of the intense East-West conflict. They regard the cold war as something the UN inherited, and not something it fostered. They trace alleged "faults" of the UN to the policies of individual governments rather than to the UN itself.

While top UN leaders hold that the organization was set up to keep peace rather than make it for the major powers, they acknowledge that its biggest problem is to keep both sides talking in hope of curbing the cold war and eventually making possible a peace settlement.

Top Level Shift?

Gen. Mark Clark, above, famed commander of the wartime Fifth Army in Italy, is rumored in line to succeed Gen. Lucius D. Clay as American commander in Germany. Clark has expressed his wish to retire. Clark now commands the Sixth Army with headquarters in San Francisco.

Final Efforts Avert New Strike

DETROIT, April 26—(AP)—Eleventh-hour peace talks that continued even after picket lines were set up prevented a shutdown of the big Packard Motor Car Co. plant early today.

Some 9,000 Packard workers who had been alerted for a strike starting at midnight Sunday were told by CIO United Auto workers officers to report on their regular shifts.

Settlement of assorted differences between the company and union was achieved by a group of representatives of both sides. They wrote an agreement on 16 disputed points.

If the strike had occurred, it would have been the first company-wide walkout in the auto industry in nearly a year. The industry's last major disturbance was the Chrysler Corp. strike last May, called by the UAW to enforce wage demands.

Wages were not at issue in the Packard dispute.

Grange Ritual Lecture

At the request of the grangers in the eastern part of Columbiana county arrangements have been made by the officers of Pomona grange to have the illustrated lecture "The Symbolism of the Grange Ritual" given at Midway grange hall on Saturday evening.

The lecture will be given Thursday evening at Bayard grange hall. It was originally intended to give the lecture just once in the county but last-minute changes were necessary because of the popularity of the lecture among the grangers.

It was sponsored by the Columbiana County Pomona grange, Charles Morlan, master.

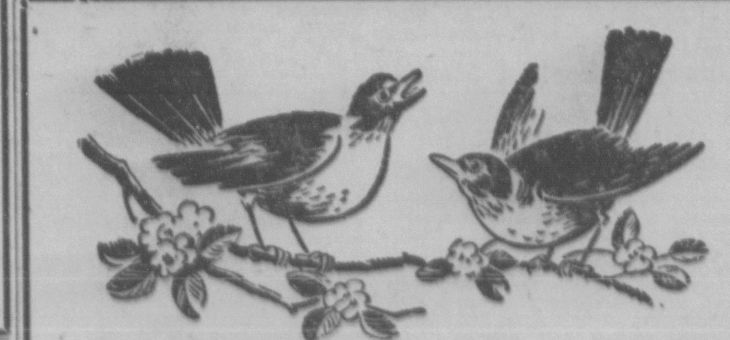

Mrs. Raymond Heim, lecturer of the county grange, is arranging for music prior to the lecture, to be furnished by neighboring granges.

Indications are that both halls will be filled to capacity, even though it is limited to those who have received the first four degrees of the order. The slides for this illustrated lecture were prepared by Dean Alfred Vivian, who had made a deep study of the symbolism of the order, and prepared a complete set of emblematic slides, which are being shown in every grange state, at countless grange meetings.

Closely associated with Dean Vivian in this work was Professor True G. Watson, secretary of the Ohio State College of Agriculture. Since Dean Vivian's death in 1943, Secretary Watson has carried on the work, introducing new slides, and has kept strictly up to date this important feature of the grange.

Rip Sewell Continues Hold On Cubs

WINS ANOTHER IN EASY FASHION AS PIRATES ADVANCE

New York Yankees Continue Or Top With Victory Over Mackmen

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Triumphant (Rip) Sewell, the old Cub killer from "way back," is showing signs of "slipping" at last.

The 40-year-old "blooper" expert of the Pittsburgh Pirates actually allowed the Cubs two runs last night in pitching the Bucs to an 8-2 victory over his "cousins" from the Windy City. If Ol' Rip doesn't watch out, those big bad Bruisers are liable to win a game from him before the season is over.

Sewell was tapped for 10 hits, but was effective in the clutches to register his second straight triumph over the Cubs this year, and his fifth against only one loss over a two-season stretch. He shut out the Cubs 1-0 in the season's opener last week.

Sewell's lifetime record against the Bruisers is phenomenal. He has whipped them 25 times in 54 decisions for better than 25 percent of his overall 139 triumphs. No other big league pitcher can boast such mastery over a rival club.

The victory put the Pirates into a three-way tie for second place with Brooklyn and Boston, and a half-game behind the National League pace-setting New York Giants. The Cubs dropped into seventh place.

The Giants continued their winning ways, defeating the Phillies in Philadelphia, 6-3, for their fourth straight victory. Clint Hartung allowed nine hits in registering his second triumph.

Bill Voiselle, tall "Braves" right-hander, knocked the Dodgers out of first place and into a triple tie for second by shutting out Brooklyn, 3-0. Jim Russell drove in Boston's first two runs with a third inning single and Earl Torgeson homered in the fifth.

It was a big day for New York and Boston for the Yankees and Red Sox in the American league all season. The Bronx Bombers, aided by a pair of costly misuses by Philadelphia's Shortstop Eddie Joost, ripped the Athletics, 3-2, at the Yankee stadium to increase their 1-2 lead to a full game over Chicago's White Sox.

Vic Raschi, who shut out Washington last week, yielded six hits, the same number the Yankees got off loser Joe Coleman.

Mel Parnell, young Red Sox southpaw, hung up his second suc-

Blasts Winn On Night Racing

NEW YORK, April 26—(UP)—Isidor Bieber, owner of the fleet Palestinian, today scored the Kentucky Derby as "a one-day ballyhoo" and said he wants to keep his horse out of it as a protest against Col. Matt
Winn's policies.

Bieber added, however, that he will let Trainer Hirsch Jacobs decide whether or not to send Palestinian to Churchill Downs for the Derby.

Bieber's bitter blast came just as his horse forged alongside Fred Rocper's Olympia as a Derby favorite. Olympia nosed out Palestinian in the Wood memorial home stretch Saturday only because Bier-ler's steed slipped in the mud.

But that did not slip Bieber's mind to conjuring up pictures of the winner circle at Churchill Downs.
Instead it gave him the chance to sound off against an old sore-point.

"Mr. Winn is in favor of night racing," Bieber said of the Derby's director. "Night racing could be the death knell for the sport in my estimation. So I don't want any of my horses running for Matt Winn.
I'd like to keep my horse away from the Derby as a protest against Winn."

At Louisville, Winn could not be reached for comment. A spokesman for the track said, "there are good enough horses running in the Derby without starting a controversy over this one."

Yesterday Stars

Batting—Wally Westlake, Pirates, cracked two home runs, his second coming in the seventh with one on to highlight a five-run rally and help defeat the Chicago Cubs, 8-2.

Pitching—Bill Voiselle, Braves, shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers with six hits as the Braves moved into a second place tie with a 3-0 win.

Providence—Norman Horton, 155.
Dayton, outpitched Ralph Zannelli, 148 1/2, (10).

Toledo—Talmadge Bussey, 137.

Boyle's COLUMN

By FAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—The U. S. senate controversy around the Malmédy massacre trials will produce one unwelcome outcome—it will create a new postwar German military hero.

He is Col. Joachim Peiper, a handsome young former adjutant to SS Chief Heinrich Himmler.

This tough-minded storm trooper, now under sentence of death, is a symbol of many hero-loving Germans of the war they lost. And from the Allied point of view, he is a dangerous man for this reason: He isn't the type the German people should ever come to regard as a martyr.

A senate subcommittee is now investigating the Army's prosecution of Col. Peiper and 72 other German soldiers. They were accused of murdering 750 American prisoners and 150 Belgian civilians in the wintry Battle of the Bulge in 1944.

The American army's quest for justice in this situation has been as confused as was the Battle of the Bulge itself. But unlike the battle, it has had no decisive impact for good on the German mind.

The original trial was held in the Nazi concentration camp at Dachau, hardly a scene renowned for justice.

Of the 73 defendants 43 were given death sentences. But since then there have been two official investigations of the trial. One was military, one was by a civilian commission. And in a final review of the matter Gen. Lucius D. Clay reduced the death sentences to six. Of the other 67 originally convicted, 20 are under life sentence, 34 serving shorter prison terms and 13 have been freed.

And now a senate subcommittee is hearing testimony that confessions were obtained by physical cruelty and psychological fear induced by "mock trials."

What other effect can all this have on many Germans except to make heroes of them—of Col. Peiper and his co-defendants?

At his trial he spoke out boldly and contemptuously to his captors. He made himself a propaganda figure not only for Nazism, which he lived by, but also for German courage. And even the Germans who never liked Nazism are nationalist on the question of German courage. Some of them have come to regard him as a victim of postwar persecution by the victors. And this is bad.

Even among some professional American officers there is a reluctance to admit for the soldierly ability of Col. Peiper, the regimental commander whose men lined up and shot to death 80 disarmed Americans in a snowy field outside Malmédy.

Whether this was a "massacre" or a military necessity is of some doubt, too, to professional soldiers. For armored columns in a breakthrough attack—be they German, American, British or Russian—have no means to care for prisoners if the battle is bitter. The decision then must be made whether to kill the prisoners or let them go, knowing the men would be free to warn the enemy ahead.

Often in command-type raids this same hard decision must be made. It is one of the lesser pleasures of war.

The trial of the 73 Nazis, many of whom were only storm trooper thugs in uniform, represents an attempt, in part at least, to enforce ethical standards on the actions of men in desperate battle.

Whether the German mind can understand the American desire to deal out justice fairly and squarely in this muddled-up situation is another matter. Certainly it is a sad result to have a man like Col. Peiper, as Nazi as Hitler and completely devoted to his anti-Christian principles, loom any larger to his countrymen.

He is the kind of man they need to forget.

WILL FIGHT FOR BERRY FORTUNE

LOS ANGELES, April 26—(AP)—Mrs. Gloria Schumm, 32-year-old movie bit player, will fight for a share of Wallace Berry's $2,000,000 estate for her 14-month-old son, who she claims the late actor fathered.

In his will, filed yesterday for probate, the veteran actor declared: "Johan Richard Wallace Schumm is not my issue, and I declare that under no circumstances is he to inherit any portion of my estate or to receive any gift."

Beery died last Friday at the age of 64. When he signed his will last March 22, his attorneys were negotiating for a $20,000 compromise settlement with Mrs. Schumm which would include a court decree declaring he was not the father of her child.
